Declares Relations With E. Germany An Unfriendly Act

Adenauer Opens Bundestag Talk On Agreement to Open Formal Diplomatic Relations With USSR

BONN, Germany (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer declared today that West Germany would regard it as "an unfriendly act" if any third nation established diplomatic relations with Communist East Germany.

Opening Bundestag debate on his agreement to open such formal relations with East Germany's sponsor, the Soviet Union, Adenauer stressed his government's adamant refusal to acknowledge the legitimacy of the East German regime. The regime was given sovereignty by the Russians in negotiations in Moscow this week.

Adenauer declared the East regime had the support of no more than 10 per cent of the 18 million East Germans. Therefore, he added, it had no right to speak for Germany. Slowly and firmly, Adenauer added:

"If a third state were to establish diplomatic relations with the East German regime we would regard it as an unfriendly act."

The House applauded. The East German government is recognized only by the Soviet Union and its satellites.

Adenauer was reporting to Parliament on his negotiations with Russian leaders in Moscow which led to an agreement to establish diplomatic relations between Bonn and Moscow. The government is asking Parliament to approve this agreement. An overwhelming favorable vote is certain.

Adenauer explained the NATO nations had already acknowledged that only the Bonn government was entitled to speak on behalf of all Germany. Any recognition of the East regime would only deepen the division of Germany, Adenauer asserted.

He said the Russian agreement with Premier Otto Grotewohl this week that the Communist East government would control traffic to Berlin was a violation of the 1949 four-power agreement ending the Berlin blockade.

Adenauer said he had asked the Western powers to study this situation "and the necessary steps."

Awaits Advice On Boosting Farm Income

Advisory Commission Begins a Two-Day Quarterly Meeting

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration looked to the National Agricultural Advisory Commission today for suggestions on how to bolster sagging farm income.

The 18-member bipartisan body of farm leaders began a two-day quarterly meeting with that as its major problem.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson said the commission will go over proposals for aiding farmers by channeling more money into their pockets.

The secretary said last week that the administration will offer specific recommendations to Congress. Suggestions of the commission doubtless will help formulate administration proposals.

The commission was appointed by President Eisenhower to review government farm policies and programs and to offer advice on ways to improve them. It played a major role in the development of the farm program which the President recommended to Congress last year and which was written into law. That program features flexible price supports which this year supplanted the high, rigid supports of the Truman era.

The commission meets behind closed doors. It rarely makes its discussions or recommendations public, and is expected to follow this policy on this week's meeting.

The meeting comes at a time when Democrats are sharply criticizing the administration's farm program and contending that the Republicans are allowing agriculture to sink into a depression.

The group is expected to give serious consideration to a proposal that the government offer farmers substantial payments for retiring upwards of 35 million acres of surplus land from the production of cash crops.

The commission also may pick up proposals that the government adopt a multiple-price system for such export crops as cotton, wheat and rice. Opposed heretofore by support domestic prices of these crops at relatively high levels while allowing them to move into export markets at lower prices.

Dean William L. Myers of the College of Agriculture at Cornell University is chairman of the commission.

Truman Looks Forward To Joining Buddies In Reunion of 35th

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Harry S. Truman said today he is looking forward to marching with his World War I buddies at the 35th Infantry Division reunion at Little Rock, Ark., next Saturday.

The former President, who marched only a token half a block at last year's get-together in Kansas City, Kan., said he hoped to go all the way this year.

"It depends on the weather though," he said. "My doctor said if it gets too hot I'd better not try it. But I'll march if I can, you know that."

Truman was a battery commander in the World War I.

Farmer Saw Till Carried Into a Barn

Testifies He Heard Screams, Saw Milam With Gun on Hip

Bulletin

SUMNER, Miss. (AP)—The state ended its case today against two white men accused of murdering a 14-year-old Negro boy.

SUMNER, Miss. (AP)—A teen-age Negro farmhand testified today that four white men in a pickup truck carried Emmett Till into a plantation barn a few hours after the lad was kidnapped.

He said he heard screams come from the barn and saw John W. Milam leave and re-enter the barn with a pistol on his hip.

Milam and his 24-year-old half-brother, Roy Bryant, are accused of murdering the 14-year-old Chicago Negro boy. The defense is expected to contend he wolf-whistled or made off-color remarks to Mrs. Bryant.

The Negro farmhand, 16-year-old Willie Reed, said the barn is on the Clint Sheridan plantation in nearby Sunflower County. Milam's brother, Leslie, is manager of the plantation.

Reed was one of the last-minute witnesses the state rounded up during the last two days. He was the first to support widespread speculation that something concerning the deed occurred in Sunflower County.

Reed said Till was carried to the barn after daylight the morning the boy was taken from his uncle's home in Money, a small community in Leflore County. The body was pulled from the Tallahatchie River in adjoining Tallahatchie County.

Reed's testimony brought a third county—Sunflower—into the case. The plantation Reed mentioned is near Drew.

The farmhand went to the witness stand after Mrs. Mamie Bradley, the slain boy's mother, said she positively identified the body sent to Chicago for burial as her son.

"I looked at the face very carefully. I just looked at it very carefully," the 33-year-old mother said softly.

"I was able to find out that it was my son, Emmett Louis Till," the state called Mrs. Bradley as its second witness today to bolster identification of the body as being Till's. The identification is a major point in the state's case against two white men accused of murdering the 14-year-old Negro. The defense is expected to contend the boy whistled or made off-color remarks to a white woman.

Mrs. Bradley began crying as Dist. Atty. Gerald Chatham handed her a picture of the boy's body. She pulled off her glasses and wiped her eyes.

She said she was positive the body in the picture was her son.

Speaks Before General Assembly--

Secretary Dulles Believes World Enters Span of Peaceful Change

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles today declared the world may be entering a decade of peaceful change which will spell the end of the cold war.

In a general policy declaration before the U. N. General Assembly he stated that the international atmosphere had improved substantially since the 1954 assembly session and that there was a good chance for constructive decisions during the coming months.

He expressed the belief that the situation was ripe for a solution of the German unification problem and that European security was now better than at any time in history.

The situation in the Far East, he said, also was following a "favorable trend" — thanks to the efforts of the U. N. and other governments — and individuals to settle differences between Red China and the United States.

"The will of the world community may have operated to avert another war, the scope of which could not surely be limited," Dulles said.

He appealed to the Assembly to endorse President Eisenhower's proposal for an exchange of military blueprints between the United States and Russia and for aerial inspection on a mutual basis.

This, he said, would provide a basis for a solid advance toward the goal of world arms reduction. Dulles spoke of the ten years of cold war conflict in which the world was beset by limited wars, subversion, arms races and inflexible attitudes.

"That phase may now be ending," he said.

"I believe that all four of the heads of government, who were at Geneva, wanted that result and that each contributed to it. In consequence, a new spirit does indeed prevail, with greater flexibility and less brittleness in international relations."

Escapee From Sawmill Captured in Marshall

MARSHALL, Mo. (AP)—Ervin Hammonds, 29-year-old convict who fled from the Missouri penitentiary sawmill yesterday, surrendered last night to sheriff's officers here. He is being held for prison officials.

Hammonds, who would have been eligible for parole in February, is serving a two-year sentence for forgery.

He declined to say which country had gained most at Geneva, but declared that if the improved atmosphere is to be permanent all must gain.

"The summit meeting, if it is to be historic, rather than episodic," he said, "must usher in an era of peaceful change."

He said this era should be one in which governments would renounce the use of war and subversion, accept orderly evolution toward their goals and develop friendly economic intercourse among themselves.

"Let us strive together," he said, "that the next decade shall be known as the healing decade of true peace."

Bara Set Ablaze By Lightning--

Strong Wind Causes Damage But No Injuries at Fortuna

Wednesday between 4 and 5 p.m. wind of tornadic intensity struck the vicinity southwest of Fortuna, causing considerable damage to farm buildings. No injuries were reported but telephone and electrical service was interrupted.

The two-story farm house of L. M. Schollmeyer, a mile southeast of the town, was extensively damaged and a chicken house and shed demolished. The Schollmeyer ers live in St. Louis and occupy the residence only occasionally and it was reported no one was at the place when the wind moved in with a sudden blast.

Further on at the Marvin Sanders farm a 60-foot shed attached to the side of a barn was swept away and carried to a roadway. There limbs were torn from trees and other minor damage resulted.

At the Ray Homan farm a front porch on the residence was damaged, hog sheds upset and a chimney wrecked.

Lightning struck a barn at the farm of "Dimple" Chism and the barn was destroyed in a fire that ensued. This was west of the other farms on which damage was caused. Damage also resulted to corn which was reaching harvest stage.

Peron's Defeat Leaves Sculptor White Elephant

PIETRASANTA, Italy (AP)—The overthrow of Juan D. Peron has left sculptor Leone Tommasi with one of the rarest white elephants in history — a white marble statue of the ex-dictator's late wife Evita 53 feet high — and a bunch of other statuary besides.

But that's nothing to what Tommasi and his two sons would have had on their hands if Peron had lasted much longer.

After worldwide competition three years ago, Argentina commissioned Tommasi to build a monument in the honor of Peron and Evita.

It was to be 450 feet tall — some 145 feet taller than the Statue of Liberty from base to torch and only 105 feet shorter than the Washington Monument.

The main figure, a 200-foot piece of statuary, was to be nearly double the height of the lady in Manhattan harbor.

The central figure was supposed to be an Argentine worker standing before an anvil with the features of Peron.

Evita was to be shown addressing a crowd with her left hand resting on a stack of books. One of them was supposed to be her own book, "The Reason of My Life."

Statutory Rape Case Is Begun On Thursday

Bulletin

The jury found Calvin Cooper not guilty. It returned its verdict at shortly after 3 p.m.

The trial of Calvin Cooper, 24, Route 4, Sedalia, charged with the statutory rape of a 13-year-old Sedalia girl, began in Circuit Court Thursday morning in the Pettis County courthouse.

Prosecuting Attorney Harold Barrick called to the stand the girl, her grandmother and Dr. A. R. Maddox, who examined the girl the evening of July 3, the day she said Cooper molested her.

The girl testified that Cooper picked her up in his car shortly before sunset, drove west on Main and then turned right on a black-top road, but she couldn't say how far out on the road they traveled.

Cooper testified that he picked the girl up, drove around for about a half-hour and let her out on the north side unharmed.

Dr. Maddox said that from his examination at about 10:30 p. m. that same day that some sort of sexual relations had occurred not more than three or four hours before the examination, but it could have been only a few minutes before.

He said there was no positive indication of intercourse. The examination took place at Hospital No. 2. Dr. Maddox testified further that it was his belief, based upon his examination, that the girl had had previous relations.

William McGee, 1618 South Ingram, superintendent of special roads, was called to the stand at one point in an effort to determine whether the alleged offense occurred in Pettis County.

The case went to the jury at 2:30 p. m. and the jury was still out at 3 p. m.

Defense attorney for Cooper is William F. Brown.

Sets Pharmacy Week

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP)—Gov. Phil M. Donnelly today proclaimed the week of Oct. 2 as National Pharmacy Week in Missouri.

President Lonardi Dissolves Congress By Formal Decree

Argentine Government Uses Radio in Concentrated Try To Calm the Troubled Nation

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Provisional President Eduardo Lonardi issued a decree today dissolving the Argentine Congress.

All 34 members of the Senate were members of the Peronista party. There were eight members of the opposition Radical party in the House, out of a membership of 166.

Lonardi's new government hit the airwaves with a concentrated campaign intended to calm the troubled nation and urging rebuilding of the split country through "peace and work in the pious light of forgetfulness."

Jail doors sprung open for men imprisoned during the overthrown Peronista regime, schools reopened the names of deposed President Juan D. Peron and his late wife, Eva Peron, were rapidly being erased from the national scene, and members of the Peron brown-shirt organization including the leader, Guillermo Patricio Kelly, were reported to have been arrested.

Lonardi, 59-year-old commander of the brief revolt which toppled Juan Peron after a decade of dictatorship, was scheduled to fly to Buenos Aires from his native Cordoba tomorrow to be installed formally as provisional president.

The installation originally had been set for today but an official announcement said "joyful celebrations" in Cordoba delayed Lonardi's departure.

The appeal for peace came from Cordoba's radio, "Voice of Liberty," which said, "It is better not to talk of the past, as our slogan is 'There are neither victors nor defeated.'"

Referring to ousted President Juan D. Peron, the broadcast lashed out at the "insane egotism of a man who did not control his ambition and tried to throw down what was dearest to the Argentine people. . . ."

The radio said the revolution was born in Cordoba, provincial capital 400 miles northwest of Buenos Aires, to "defend the constitution, the freedom of men, the freedom of the press and the freedom of worship."

The peace agreement concluded yesterday provided for Lonardi and other rebel leaders to take over from the junta of pro-Peron generals which took control of the resignation.

Peron was reported to be still aboard the Paraguayan gunboat in Buenos Aires harbor where he found refuge Tuesday. The new government did not indicate whether it would persist in previous rebel demands that he be surrendered or let him escape into exile.

The announcement that a peace agreement had been reached said the junta "has reached a complete accord with the command of the opposition and has accepted the points stipulated by its representatives." There was no mention of Peron's fate.

Blames Crash On Inattention By Air Crew

Says Crew Probably Failed to Observe Their Instruments

WASHINGTON (AP)—An air crew's inattention to flight instruments and a sensory illusion that has led other crews astray were blamed today for a fatal plane crash near Springfield, Mo., last March 29.

The Civil Aeronautics Board said in an accident investigation report: "The probable cause of this accident was a descent to the ground while approaching the airport caused by the crew's inattention to their flight instruments and a possible sensory illusion giving them an erroneous impression of the attitude of the aircraft."

The American Airlines Convair 240 crashed about a mile northwest of the Springfield municipal airport, killing 11 of the 32 passengers and the first officer and stewardess, and seriously injuring the captain and all but one of the other passengers. The plane was on a flight between Newark, N. J., and Tulsa, Oklahoma.

The CAB noted evidence that a passenger had heard one of the pilots cry out just before the crash, "my God, we are going to hit the ground."

"This, and other evidence, indicated the crew was not aware the aircraft was so low that it was descending," the board said.

"It is probable that at this time the pilots were devoting their attentions outside the cockpit and possibly towards the distant airport lights while flying over flat, dark and sparsely lighted terrain."

The CAB said such conditions have given flight crews a false impression of their altitude, and have also produced the illusion that their plane was flying horizontally when in reality the nose attitude was up or down.

The CAB also announced it will hold a public hearing at Springfield Oct. 4 to determine the cause of the crash of another American Airlines Convair 240 during an attempted emergency landing last Aug. 4 at Forney Field, Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., 70 miles from Springfield.

All persons aboard that plane—27 passengers and three crewmen—were killed.

Representatives Will Investigate St. Louis Police

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A Missouri House of Representatives committee has declared itself "duly constituted" and says it will go ahead with an investigation of the St. Louis Police Department.

Prior to the committee's first meeting last night, a member, Rep. A. Clifford Jones, charged in a statement that many questions concerning the department have been buried by investigating agencies and need to be answered.

The St. Louis County Republican declared "It would be a great revelation to the morale of the many honest and competent policemen on the St. Louis police force to have all these questions brought to light."

Jones listed many questions relating to reported payoff to police by operators of brothels and other matters, some dating back to 1951.

The police board had taken the stand that the committee was unauthorized. I. A. Long, board president, in a letter Tuesday to Rep. Jennie S. Walsh, referred to an opinion by Atty. Gen. John M. Dalton that the committee was null and void because a House resolution creating it hadn't been concurred in by the Senate and signed by the governor.

Bulganin, Khrushchev Go On a Vacation

Bulganin last week missed official engagements through indisposition. He and Khrushchev have had a grueling time in the last six months with almost nonstop international negotiations.

A special submarine for exploring the mysterious deep of the ocean has been invented and, what's more, it floats. Everyone seemed surprised. See Page 2, Section 1.

Spectators Are Surprised As Sub Floats

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The cluster of spectators on the shipyard dock looked on amazed when Edmund Martine's stubby little submarine hit the water — and actually floated.

Martine and his associate Fred Zender weren't surprised but they conceded that yesterday's first flotation tests surpassed expectations, although the sub's tail drooped slightly.

Both rode the conning tower as the queer 42-foot craft slid into the quiet waters of Los Angeles harbor. Lines led to shore-side stanchions, just in case, but the three-man boat, named the Cetacean, bobbed safely on the channel swell.

Martine, who has designed diving bells, built the Cetacean with his own funds as an experiment. He says it's his dream of a self-powered, deep water diving machine. He hopes to use it in exploring and photographing under-sea life and geography.

Its cost thus far has not been disclosed.

The Cetacean weighs 53 tons and carries inside its steel shell a dual set of deisel-electric motors which Martine expects will give the craft a speed of 10 knots on the surface and seven submerged. The Cetacean, shaped something like a cocoon, has on its bottom twin "feet" for ocean floor pedestals.

The nose, sides and bottomside of the hull are fitted with optically ground glass ports through which cameras are trained. Twelve lights, each of 600 watts output, will send piercing beams through the water for photographic purposes, Martine says.

Tests will continue this week, and Martine hopes to put to sea in the Cetacean within two weeks for deep sea tests.

Demilitarized Sector Is Held By Israeli

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—Israeli troops clung today to a section of the Negev Desert demilitarized zone, refusing to leave until Egyptians quit two posts they allegedly hold in the area. Egypt denied it holds the posts.

Canadian Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, United Nations truce supervisors' chief in Palestine, reported to U.N. headquarters that 70 Israeli troops had taken up positions yesterday in the Nizana sector of the demilitarized zone, 50 miles due south of Egyptian-held Gaza.

Burns lodged a strong protest with the Israeli Foreign Ministry. A spokesman for the Israeli Foreign Ministry said in Jerusalem that the action was taken because of the "continued presence of two Egyptian military outposts in this territory inside 'Israel' and because the Egyptians had demolished border markers Israel had put up in the area.

Col. Salah Gohar, Egypt's director of Palestine affairs, disputed Israel's claim to the territory and the Jewish nation's right to erect border markers. He also denied that Egyptians had pulled down the 21 white concrete pillars.

Melody Masters Give Program at School

On Thursday, Sept. 22, the Kansas University sent the first of a series of seven assembly programs to the Green Ridge school.

The program was presented at 1 p.m. on Thursday afternoon.

German Puts NATO In Dither

OMAHA (AP)—Frau Elsa Taake is an expert with the embroidery needle. Because she is, this story unfolded:

Frau Taake decided she wanted to make an embroidered writing case for the North Atlantic Treaty commander in chief, Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther.

And it being that Gen. Gruenther comes from Nebraska, Frau Taake of West Berlin decided she should embroider Nebraska's state flag into the case design along with the NATO coat of arms and the U.S. flag.

So she wrote the adjutant general of the U.S. Army forces in Europe asking a color reproduction of Nebraska's flag.

He didn't have one. But he figured the adjutant general at Washington would have it. So on went the request.

The adjutant general at Washington didn't have one. But he figured the chief of the Nebraska Military District at Omaha would have one. On went the request.

Col. John R. Dey, the Nebraska district boss, who told the story last night, didn't have one. But he figured Nebraska Adj. Gen. Guy N. Henninger would have one. On went the request.

Gen. Henninger didn't have a color reproduction. But he had an answer. He sent Col. Dey his own real Nebraska flag from Lincoln. And now Donald P. Christensen, a civilian engineering employee of the Nebraska district, is busy with brush and paint making the color reproduction that Frau Taake wants.

It will go out in the mails next week to keep Frau Taake's needle busy.

And down the line the word can be passed: "Mission accomplished."

Supercarrier Ready For Crucial Tests While at Full Speed

ABOARD CARRIER FORRESTAL (AP)—This is the crucial testing day for Uncle Sam's newest and mightiest warship as the Navy prepared to open up the supercarrier Forrestal to full speed.

If she passes the test, the "okay" label is expected to be given the 59,000-ton vessel, which failed her first sea trials last month because of mechanical trouble.

Preliminary tests yesterday were successful. They took place as the ship zig-zagged through moderate seas off the Virginia Capes at speeds ranging up to 25 knots an hour.

Three weeks ago, the vessel developed mechanical trouble stemming from an inadequate lubricating system. The Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock Co., the builder, thinks the trouble has been corrected.

If all goes well, the Forrestal will be delivered to the Navy Sept. 29 and commissioned Oct. 1.

Tropical Storm Janet Forms in the Atlantic And May Grow Larger

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The season's 10th tropical storm named Janet, spun far out in the Atlantic today and Weather Bureau forecasters predicted it would grow in size and intensity.

It was born just a week after Hurricane Ione blew up 320 miles east of Puerto Rico. Ione crashed ashore on the North Carolina coast, causing an estimated 160 million dollars damage and seven deaths.

Ione then veered northeastward, sparing the populous northeastern United States but hitting St. Johns, Nfld., with winds up to 82 miles an hour and causing flooded conditions there.

Hilda formed Sept. 12 about 840 miles east-southeast of Miami, roared through Cuba, then spun across the Caribbean and hit Mexico, where the unofficial death toll exceeded 200.

Hilda and Ione were still on the weather map when Janet was born although thousands of miles separated the trio.

Experts Say Storm Path Change Likely

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Weather experts believe the barrage of hurricanes slamming into the Middle Atlantic and New England states may soon shift back to Florida.

Gordon Dunn, chief storm forecaster in the Miami Weather Bureau, said today the current hurricane cycle "has lasted fully as long as it normally does, and on a statistical basis, we would say the trend ought to reverse itself right away—by that meaning in the next year or two."

If this is true, Dunn added, Florida's five-year immunity from hurricanes may be about over.

Dunn, who has been conferring with other weather experts in Washington, said weathermen believe they have come up with the reason for the northward shift tropical storms have been following for the past few years.

Experts believe a high-pressure area known as the Azores-Bermuda High is the "weather control" for the Atlantic and the southeastern United States during the hurricane season.

Four or five years ago this high-pressure area was displaced "somewhat to the north and west of its normal position and also became a little stronger than average," Dunn explained.

"At the same time, pressure has been below normal from the Cape southern portion of the North Atlantic states.

"This pressure distribution is favorable for an above-normal frequency of hurricanes. Secondly is the fact that it is farther north and farther west.

"This means that the trajectory of the hurricanes around the periphery of it is displaced farther west than normal, so that hurricanes which would have normally recurred harmlessly off the East Coast of the United States have been forced inland.

"That's why the South Atlantic coast and particularly the Carolinas have been catching them more frequently."

Belief that the Azores-Bermuda High will shift back to its old location has only a statistical basis, Dunn said.

He pointed out that weathermen believe the 1926 to 1950 period, which saw the Greater Miami area hit by 16 tropical storms, including eight hurricanes, was abnormal.

Learns He Can't Pay His Debt in Pennies

DOWNEY, Calif. (AP)—When Raymond P. Vinzant lost a Small Claims Court judgment of $88.19 to Anthony J. Rivera he tried to pay off in pennies, but Rivera refused, claiming the coppers aren't legal tender.

Vinzant dumped the 8,819 pennies from a bucket onto a sidewalk, saying: "Here's your money." A crowd gathered as the men disputed the question of legal tender and sidewalk lawyers popped up all around with free advice.

Municipal Judge A. Daniel Boone was consulted and he expressed the opinion Vinzant had not paid in legal tender, so sheriff's deputies ordered Vinzant to clear the sidewalk. He had to scoop up his coppers and put them back in his bucket.

Skunk Tries Aim

Desert Bank Cashier Is Held on 25 Counts After Funds Disappear

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Roscoe D. Coon, horse-loving vice president and cashier of a desert town bank that closed July 25, has been indicted on 25 counts of embezzlement, misapplication of funds and false entries.

"This is the most fantastic embezzlement case which has ever come before local authorities," said U.S. Atty. Laughlin E. Waters. "Apparently the shortages go back to 1953, and we have been unable to find evidence that any other person was involved."

Federal authorities said the Joshua Monument National Bank — the only one in the desert community of Twentynine Palms — closed after an audit showed a shortage of $678,000.

Waters said Coon, who owns at suburban Altadena and Twentynine Palms, was arrested at the Del Mar race track where he had a racing stable valued at about $150,000.

The Federal Deposit Insurance Corp., which insured the bank's deposits, has obtained an injunction preventing Coon from disposing of any of his assets.

Beverly A. Hand Becomes Bride of James H. Pointer

The marriage of Miss Beverly Ann Hand, daughter of Mrs. Edith Hand, and Mr. James L. Pointer, son of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Pointer, of Kansas City, took place on Sept. 6th at 8:00 in the evening in the Memorial Chapel of the Community Christian Church. Dr. Frank Johnson Pippin performed the ceremony before the altar which was decorated with white mums and pompons and floor candelabra.

Miss Judy Volkowitz, accompanied by Mrs. Grance Cranston, sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her uncle, Robert Hand, the bride wore a ballerina length, strapless gown of imported Chantilly lace and nylon tulle over satin. The snug fitting lace basque bodice featured a pleated nylon tulle top. The scalloped Chantilly lace jacket was styled with a Johnny collar, and traditional long sleeves ending in points over the hands. The bouffant lace overskirt, scalloped down the front and back, fell over a layer of nylon tulle over satin and was worn over hoops and erinelines. Her veil was of Chantilly lace shaped in a half bonnet and she carried a white orchid on a Bible with stephanotis and streamers.

She was attended by her sister, Miss Shirley Hand, as maid of honor, who wore a ballerina length gown of pale blue lace over taffeta. She carried a semi-colonial bouquet of pink asters centered with blue. Sherry Rissler, wearing pale pink, was flower girl.

The bridegroom was attended by his brother-in-law, Mr. Paul Peterson, as best man.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Hand chose a teal blue antique silk sheath gown with white and brown accessories. Mrs. Pointer wore a turquoise crepe gown with black accessories. Their corsages were of red roses.

A reception was held at the church following the ceremony. The table was skirted with floor length satin and net. The tiered wedding cake was flanked with silver candelabras with white tapers and garlands of greenery.

The bride traveled in a navy shantung suit dress and wore navy accessories and a white orchid corsage.

The couple will be at home in Kansas City.

Beverly attended school in Sedalia before moving to Kansas City. She is the granddaughter of Mrs. R. W. Ellis of Sedalia and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hand of Houstonia.

Tampico Faces New Threat Of Disease

MEXICO CITY (AP)—A disease epidemic menaced flood-stricken Tampico today. The outbreak came as the gulf port battled the ravages of the rampaging Panuco River in the wake of Hurricane Hilda.

The unofficial death toll in north-east Mexico stood at 205, with more expected as the floods continued and isolated sections reported. About 400 were listed as missing and 1,000 injured.

Dysentery, which generally stalks the victims of a major flood, broke out among Tampico's 30,000 homeless almost a third of the 110,000 population. Two children died from the disease at a concentration center, and 100 more were reported critically ill.

Doctors asked the capital for emergency aid. Medicine was being flown in along with food and clothing.

The airlift still constituted the only means of supplying the flood-isolated city. President Adolfo Ruiz Cortines flew to the coast for a personal inspection.

Four U.S. helicopters arrived to help in the rescue of persons marooned by the Panuco's floodwaters, which had crept to within 150 feet of Tampico's main square.

The Navy Ministry put property damage at a billion and a half pesos (120 million dollars).

A thousand persons trapped on a hill several miles from Tampico were rescued by government launches. But the swift river current prevented the launches from reaching many other isolated communities. Hope for refugees at these points lay with the helicopters.

About 15,000 persons were reported isolated around Soto la Marina, half way between Tampico and Brownsville, Texas.

The hurricane destroyed virtually all crops in the 75-mile-wide swath it cut for about 150 miles inland. Highways and railroads were washed out, and Tampico's docks and airport were badly damaged.

Several hundred tourists from the United States and Canada were stopped at the northern edge of the disaster area but were able to return home. Others at Valles, 75 miles west of Tampico, were blocked by landslides and washouts north and south of them.

Two Men Land Shark Weighing 1,800 Lbs.

HONOLULU (AP)—Marine Sgt. Richard C. Lawrence and Air Force Sgt. Charles Hoke, fishing from the Ft. Weaver dock, yesterday landed a 15-foot shark weighing 1,800 pounds. The battle lasted three hours.

The sergeants said they used a two-foot hammerhead shark as bait. "You use that kind of bait and rig when you expect to catch big ones," Lawrence said.

Blames Ferry Sinking On Impatient Skipper

HAKODATE, Japan (AP)—A marine court of inquiry today blamed the dead skipper for the 1954 typhoon sinking of the huge government railways ferry Toya Maru.

A total of 111,172 persons—56 of them Americans—drowned. It was the worst sea disaster since the Titanic sank in 1912 with 1,517 dead.

After seven months of hearings, the Hakodate local marine accidents inquiry agency, a government body, blamed Capt. Heiichi Kondo for putting to sea in a typhoon.

Fire Department Loses Old Customer

LANSING, Mich. (AP)—No more will the Lansing fire department dispatcher sing out: "It's Harry again!"

No more will the inhalator squad race off to the residence of Harry D. Cove, 97-year-old businessman who suffered from heart trouble.

The squad revived Cove 172 times over the years and claimed that he was the world's "most revived man."

Yesterday he died. The squad was not called the last time.

Longshoremen Seek Place to Show Film Barred as Communist

HILO, Hawaii (AP)—Harry Bridges' International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union is looking for a place to show the movie "Salt of the Earth," which the House Un-American Activities Committee labeled Communist propaganda.

Ernest B. De Silva, public school superintendent, barred the film from the Hilo High School and auditorium.

Maj. Gen. Fred W. Makinney, adjutant general of the Hawaii National Guard, refused to permit a showing in the armory where the ILWU territorial convention is being held.

US Officials Deny Bohlen Issued Charge

WASHINGTON (AP)—U. S. officials say "it just isn't true" that Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen accused German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of betraying an American secret.

Bohlen himself, vacationing in Cambridge, Mass., from his Moscow post, declined to comment on the news story, carried yesterday in the Bonn newspaper Abendpost.

The paper quoted Adenauer as saying in an off-the-record talk with six American correspondents that Bohlen made the charge during a "temperamental" exchange with Herbert Blankenhorn, Bonn's ambassador to NATO.

The paper said the incident occurred during Adenauer's recent negotiations in Moscow and involved a Russian protest against the launching of American propaganda balloons from Germany. The report said that Adenauer promised to take up the matter with American authorities and that Bohlen made the charge when he was approached about it.

U. S. officials here, describing the story as "cockeyed," said Bohlen had suggested only that the Russians should be told the American government floats no propaganda balloons. All such balloons are sent into Russia by private organizations, he was quoted as telling Blankenhorn.

Bans Special Editions Of Foreign Newspapers

Officials said the action was taken after a request from the New York Times for permission to publish an Asian airmail edition in India, preferably in Calcutta.

Father Pleads Anew for His Stolen Infant

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The father of a tiny infant stolen from a hospital crib pleaded again today for his son's safe return. Fears increased for the breast-fed baby's life.

Dr. Sanford Marcus' plea followed intensification of the search after the finding of clues in San Jose.

Rewards totaling $5,000 were offered for the return of 6½-pound Robert Marcus, unharmed. Robert is 6 days old, if alive.

The child's 29-year-old mother, near collapse after the loss of her baby only two days after birth, is not responding to treatment, said Dr. Marlin, 34.

"Return of the baby would make everything all right," he added. Hundreds of police—more than a third of San Francisco's 111,700-man force—assigned to the case. They are searching for a buxom blonde woman, 35 to 40 years old, whom hospital attendants saw near the nursery just before Robert was snatched.

At San Jose, 50 miles to the south, a blanket of a type used at Mt. Zion Hospital, from which Robert was taken, was found.

Mrs. Nina Magnoli found it in her yard, only four blocks from the home of Mrs. Henrietta Guerrero, who told police a buxom blonde with a baby asked her Tuesday to heat a bottle of milk.

Another possible clue was a half-filled bottle with a nipple, found in a clump of bushes in a San Jose parking lot by taxicab driver George Adams.

A milk formula which could keep little Robert alive was broadcast and published.

Mrs. Marcus was under sedation and was being fed through the veins. Her parents and a brother died in German prison camps and she was a wartime refugee who escaped through Holland to England.

The Marcuses have two other children, 3½-year-old Richard and 2-year-old Susan.

Dr. Marcus pleaded for the kidnaper to "take the baby to the nearest church. We will not prosecute."

Bobby Returns Home With Legs Donated By His Home Town

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP)—Bobbie Dunn is back at his Pontiac home, and he made it under his own power.

Bobbie, 14, lost both legs while trying to catch a ride on a freight train last Christmas day. One leg was severed and the other had to be amputated.

Benn Dunn, his father, was jobless at the time. There was no money for hospital care and expensive artificial legs.

Nancy Donaldson, daughter of Pontiac Mayor John Donaldson, started a collection. With money donated by townspeople Bobbie was sent to a hospital in Grand Rapids, where he was fitted with artificial legs.

He returned home yesterday for a happy reunion with his family. And neatly tucked away in a Pontiac bank is $12,000 in his name, the remainder of the fund donated for his care.

Egypt Will Remove Old Church Leader

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—The Egyptian government is going to oust 85-year-old Patriarch Anba Youssef II, controversial head of the Coptic Church in Egypt and Ethiopia, whose suspension was ordered by his own hierarchy.

The church is an ancient Christian body similar to the Greek Orthodox Church. The Coptic archbishops and Congregational Council voted to suspend the old man from his lifetime post but he refused to quit. The Egyptian Cabinet decided last night to back the lesser church leaders.

The patriarch has been under fire for more than a year from Coptic leaders who dislike his administration of church affairs.

Labor Secretary Says US Faced Shortage Of Skilled Workers

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell warned today the nation, despite its high level of prosperity, faces a critical shortage of skilled workers.

Mitchell told the Interstate Conference of Employment Security Agencies it appears there are not enough skilled workers "to meet the ever-growing demands of military and civilian production."

Out of a total work force of 67½ millions, he said, there are now only 9 million skilled workers.

"We must make provision for more and better training and re-training," Mitchell said. "The nation's employers must discard their traditional prejudices against hiring workers who are over 45 and yet still fully capable of valuable work."

"Management and labor must also discard the discrimination which effectively bars millions from many forms of skilled work."

Annual 4-H Banquet Scheduled for Nov. 12

The 4-H Recognition Banquet, given each year for Pettis County 4-H members, by Sedalia Chamber of Commerce, has been set for Saturday, Nov. 12, at the Smith-Cotton High School cafeteria. The banquet is a project of the agricultural division of the Chamber of Commerce of which Ivan Berry is director and Everett Stevenson is chairman.

Serving will start at 6 p. m. and approximately 1,200 4-H members, their parents and leaders are expected to attend.

It is on the day when recognition is given for the outstanding achievements of 4-H members throughout the year that the Chamber of Commerce, too, wants to show appreciation for the wonderful program of work these young people of the county are accomplishing. So, for the past several years a banquet has been given in their honor with members of the agricultural committee, the board of directors and other members of the Chamber of Commerce on hand to assist in serving and to mingle and get better acquainted with the young 4-H members and their parents.

Line Squall Causes Damage Near St. Louis But No One Injured

JERSEYVILLE, Ill. (AP)—The Jerseyville area was hit by a severe storm last night which knocked down trees and power lines, causing extensive property damage but no deaths and only a few injuries.

The storm, described as a line squall by the weather bureau in St. Louis, was accompanied by 30-mile-an-hour winds and heavy rain, a boon to parched farm lands.

Alton, some 20 miles south of here, Carlinville, about 30 miles west, and Hardin, 20 miles west, all were hit. Electric power and telephone facilities were knocked out for as long as two hours in those areas.

Parts of north St. Louis County also suffered tree damage. During the storm, two cars collided head-on just south of Hardin, killing George Hager, an elderly Hardin resident, and seriously injuring Mrs. Nora Hill, 60, of Batchtown, Ill. The victims were taken to Jerseyville Community Hospital.

Five persons in St. Louis, 45 miles south of Jerseyville, were injured when a tree was snapped off by the wind and fell in the midst of spectators and participants during a softball game.

Demos Will Say Ike Did Not Match Them On Sound Budgeting

WASHINGTON (AP)—Campaigning Democrats will stress a contention that the Eisenhower administration "did not come close to matching the Democratic record for sound budgetary performance."

Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler made the statement yesterday in sending to party workers a "fact sheet" reporting an estimated three-year deficit of $9,300,000,000 under the Republicans compared with a surplus of $4,300,000,000 during four peacetime years of the Truman administration.

He urged Democrats to "hammer home the truth" that the Truman administration balanced the budget and produced a surplus in two of the four years 1947-1950.

Secrecy Surrounds US-European Talks At Alpine Resort

GARMISCH-PARTENKIRCHEN, Germany (AP)—Strict secrecy surrounded a conference of American and European political, economic and military leaders which opened at this Alpine resort today.

Ancient Chickens

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—The chicken is mentioned in literature as far back as 400 B.C., Mrs. Leonora C. Hering told the annual meeting of the National Poultry Science Assn. She spoke on her hobby as a collector and authority on rare poultry books.

Yule Parade Committee Lays Plans

A meeting of the Christmas parade committee, of which Ed Kehde is chairman, was held Monday evening at the Chamber of Commerce office to formulate plans for the parade which will be held Saturday, Dec. 3, at 10:30 a.m.

Flores are one thing that makes a good parade and the committee is asking the cooperation of business firms in building real Christmas type floats. Each type of business is asked to have a float with all selling the line of merchandise going together on the cost and building. That is, all of the grocers will build one float, all of the cleaners will build one, all of the florists and so on. The retail merchants division of the Chamber of Commerce came up with the idea of building such floats with several firms going together but not using their advertising in any way. The parade committee then decided that the idea could best be carried out with people in the same line of business working together.

Christmas is a time of religious thoughts, too, and the committee is anxious that churches take part and have floats with a religious theme, choirs singing Christmas hymns or other ideas along that line.

Usually the civic clubs have come through with nice floats for the Christmas parade, so have the sororities and other organizations. The committee would appreciate entries from the various organizations.

To make a parade really good there must be bands. School bands from Sedalia and all the towns surrounding are needed in the Santa Claus parade.

Santa plans to bring with him a lot of candy for the kiddies and he has written Mr. Kehde and asked that he be given plenty of helpers. He wants them dressed up like clowns because Santa likes clowns and he knows the kiddies do, too. Anyone who has ever had a secret ambition to be a clown, and most people have, here is their chance. Santa says he just can't have too many clowns so anyone willing to help out that morning by being a clown is asked to turn in their names at the Chamber of Commerce office. That doesn't really mean it must be a man either—one of the very best clowns Sedalia ever had was a woman. Nobody knew it until afterwards but she was right in there clowning and having more fun than anybody.

There will be float designs at the Chamber of Commerce office for anyone interested. All entries must be in by Nov. 1 at the Chamber of Commerce office.

There is no rush this year. Everybody has plenty of time to plan and build a float.

Members of Kehde's committee are Mrs. J. F. Schumacher, Paul Hunsell, Larry Mitchell, Lloyd Phillips, C. A. Phillips and Roy Kline.

Utility Firm Executive Strangles in Swing

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Clark B. Roser, 37, a utility company executive, strangled last night when he apparently slipped on wet grass and became entangled in a chain on a child's swing in his back yard.

His wife found the body with the chain about his neck. There are two swings in the yard, each suspended by small chains from a bar of tubular steel eight feet above the ground.

Roser, assistant treasurer of the Kansas City Power & Light Co., is a native of West Plains, Mo., and University of Missouri

—Miss Jean Zimmerman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Zimmerman of Jefferson City, won the title of Miss Co-Mo Electric of 1955 at the Co-Mo's annual meeting and electrical fair held at the Tipton fairgrounds Sept. 8-9.

Sedalian Gets Recognition In Magazine

Frank G. Buchanan, 912 West seventh, was given special recognition in the August issue of the Katy Employers Magazine for his long and continued services with the Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railroad. Following is the article that appeared in the magazine.

"In his 53 years with the Katy Railroad, Agent Frank G. Buchanan of Sedalia, Missouri, has maintained an avid interest in the civic and social life of his community. But the years 1917-1924, when he worked as agent at Pilot Grove do, too. Anyone who has ever had a secret ambition to be a clown, and most people have, here is their chance. Santa says he just can't have too many clowns so anyone willing to help out that morning by being a clown is asked to turn in their names at the Chamber of Commerce office. That doesn't really mean it must be a man either—one of the very best clowns Sedalia ever had was a woman. Nobody knew it until afterwards but she was right in there clowning and having more fun than anybody.

"Now 67 years old, Buchanan is a member of the Sedalia Rotary Club, American Legion, Sedalia Chamber of Commerce and Shrine Club. He is a veteran of World War I.

"A native of Wainwright, Tex., Buchanan was born Dec. 16, 1887. He attended elementary schools there and began his career with the Katy Railroad Oct. 26, 1902, at Wainwright, Tex.

"His career with the Katy has included work as a telegrapher and relief agent at Wainwright, Trenton, Caddo, Mills, Rockwell, Burleson, Ringgold, Rowlegg, Red Oak and Waxahachie, Tex. Subsequently, he transferred to the dispatcher's office in 1910 as a telegrapher at New Franklin, Mo., and in 1912 he moved to Boonville, Mo.

"On May 10, 1917, he went to Pilot Grove as agent and transferred from there to Paola, Kan., in 1924. He has been in Sedalia as agent since Sept. 25, 1925, a span of 30 years."

The eleven largest U.S. steel companies have increased their production capacity by 48 per cent since 1939, but the other companies in U.S. production have increased their production by 85 per cent in the same period.

graduate. Survivors include the widow and a 5-year-old son, Alexander.

September 30 Is Important SS Deadline

Sept. 30 is an important deadline for many widows and young children of deceased workers who died after June, 1940, and before September, 1950. The 1954 amendments to the Social Security Act made it possible to pay monthly survivors benefits to an estimated 200,000 survivors of deceased workers who died during this period.

Many of these survivors have been told, prior to September, 1954, that they could not receive payments because the worker had not worked long enough under the law in effect at the time of his death. Some of these survivors have already recontacted their local social security district offices since these amendments went into effect in September, 1954, and are now receiving monthly survivors benefits. Undoubtedly many more can qualify for payments if they go back to the social security office and file an application.

In order for any type of benefit to be payable under the Social Security Act, it is necessary that the worker be "insured." This means that he must have worked for a certain length of time in employment or self-employment covered by the law. A worker who died after June, 1940, and prior to September, 1950, needs only six quarters of coverage (or a year and a half) in covered employment. Many workers who died during the period, moreover, had served in some branch of the military service. It may be possible to give credit under the Social Security Act for such service.

The social security law provides that no claim for monthly benefits can be retroactive for more than 12 months before the month of filing. Since this new provision of the law became effective in September, 1954, any claim for survivors benefits will have to be made on or before September 30, 1955, in order to receive full benefits. Assistance in filing a formal application may be obtained from the nearest social security district office. In Sedalia, the office is located at 605 South Massachusetts.

Old Capital Is Found Behind Framed Picture Bought Here

The discoverer and owner, Miss Fern Epperson, who resides in the Kahn Building, Second and Ohio, came across the paper, published on June 25, 1897, while reframing the picture behind which it had lay hidden for over half a century.

On the page, now brown and fragile with age, is a selection of news articles and advertisements that are particularly interesting to a reader in this present era of speed and inflationary values.

One story is entitled, "Buggy Badly Wrecked," and is quoted in part: "Mrs. James Cain, residing on Saline Street, had her buggy badly wrecked last evening at the corner of Third and Lafayette, and but for prompt assistance might have been badly injured. She and a lady friend were driving when the horse balked at the place mentioned and absolutely refused to yield to entreaty or persuasion applied with the buggy whip. Matters were brought to a crisis when Roy Hinkle came along with passengers for the Katy train . . . Just as the horse . . . came back in the harness and pushed the vehicle into the street, his right rear wheel caught on to the buggy and smashed it to the ground. . . . The balking horse, as soon as the collision occurred, forgot all about balking and was ready to run away, but was prevented by the timely assistance of some bystanders."

Other articles deal with building progress in Sedalia; the $100 reward offered by the state for an escaped convicted murderer; the menace of the previous night's rainstorm to streetcar traffic and the "crowd at the park" and an editorial expressing the opinion that McKinley is too conservative and cautious in his policy towards Cuba.

A grocery company advertises choice hams at 10 cents per pound; good roast coffee at 15 cents per pound; salmon at ten cents per can; navy beans at 12 pounds for 25 cents; good laundry soap, ten bars for 25 cents; large pickles, five cents per dozen; two pounds of canned corn for five cents; and jelly in wine glass, three for ten cents.

Advertising by a local dentist offered a full set of the best teeth for $8 and fillings ranging from 75 cents to $1. Extractions could be had for 25 cents.

Michigan City Is Blanketed By Fear Fog

STOCKBRIDGE, Mich. (AP)—The lock and the gun have replaced the open door and friendly handshake in this central Michigan community, blanketed by a fog of fear since the hammer-slaying of a farm couple Sept. 3.

The town (pop. 1,096) lies only 18 miles from the State Prison of Southern Michigan at Jackson, the world's largest walled institution.

Stockbridge people didn't worry much about their neighbors until the night when the battered bodies of Howard Herrick 63, and his wife Myra, 62, were found in their farm five miles away. A bloodied hammer lay nearby.

The discovery touched off a nationwide search for Nealy Buchanan, 31, who escaped from the prison on the day before the killing. Police said his fingerprints were found at the scene.

Buchanan has not been found. In the past two weeks, fear has sifted past the locked doors and into the heart of a town which once welcomed strangers.

Hardware stores say their stocks of locks have been exhausted and ammunition sales are booming. Husbands are teaching their wives how to handle shotguns and rifles.

The town has been converted into a tense arena of false alarms, rumors and scares.

Joseph Southwell, the Stockbridge village marshal, says, "If I had a flat tire in some of the rural areas I would be afraid to walk up to a farmhouse. Every one of them has a rifle or shotgun, loaded and right next to the door."

One woman keeps a revolver in her refrigerator.

Where's The Fire?
JACKSONVILLE BEACH, Fla. — "It seems confusing but it's really simple," said fire chief R. D. Brunson.

Jacksonville Beach residents who want to report a fire should phone the fire department 5-2334; not the police department 5-2331.

However, residents of adjacent Neptune Beach and Atlantic Beach who want to report a fire should call the police department 5-2331; not the fire department 5-2334. That is, unless there is no answer at the police department. Then they should call the fire department.

Now that explanation should cut down the number of calls going to the wrong department — sometimes 30 to 40 a week, Brunson said.

Ranchers Can See Costly Cowboy Style

ALBUQUERQUE — Davy Crockett, as any red-blooded American boy knows, had his fur cap.

And it seems that every woman, as many a hard-working spouse knows, dreams of a fur coat.

Well, men, your day has come! When the little woman shouts for the fur and the young'un choruses for a genuine Davy Crockett coonskin cap, draw yourself up proudly, give 'em a stoney-eyed stare, and proclaim:

"Now look here! I haven't even paid the first installment on my mink blue jeans. My jeweled cowboy buckle is being readied and what good would that be without my six pairs of cowboy boots—a paltry $1,000 a pair."

This year, at the New Mexico State Fair, ranchers will have a chance to see a $10,000 wardrobe for the cowboy (at least they're billed that way, even if rodeo queens do wear them). The mink jeans have been making the rounds of the country at the biggest state fairs. But Simon Goldman, who sets up the display in the dairy building, added the rest for a complete ensemble.

"I wanted something real unusual and outstanding," he said. "I'll probably have to hire a couple of guards."

The entire outfit is valued at $10,000.

The blue jeans, costing $3,500, are lined with silk.

"They had to get 22 matched skins to make the blue jeans," Goldman said. "You have to admit, they're luxurious if you like mink."

The cowboy buckle, made entirely of gold and silver and richly studded with jewels, was fashioned by a silversmith. It costs $1,000.

The boots come in sets of six pairs; $1,000 a pair, and a Stetson hat will run $100.

Actually none of the pieces is for sale. But they're pretty to look at.

Price Rises Now Reach Consumers

NEW YORK — Price rises—starting at the production level in the summer—are now popping out on consumer items. Testing time lies just ahead.

Automobiles, gasoline, television sets, hats, floor tiles—one or more manufacturers in these fields have raised prices this week. And the parade of higher prices continues in fields that consumers encounter only indirectly and later on after the boosts raise production costs—electric transformers, oil field equipment, bleached sulphite pulp, nickel-chromium alloys.

Testing time will come when the consumer reacts. Manufacturers argue that prices must go up because the cost of labor and industrial materials have gone up. And the retailers argue that one of the chief reasons for the booming demand for consumer goods has been price paring that offered the public bargains—that the demand could shrivel under the frost of higher prices this fall.

The consumer's first interest is likely to be in the higher price tags on the 1956 model cars.

Ford is taking the first step. Its new Fords will be higher by from $46 to $99. Its Lincoln already have been raised.

Others in the industry haven't announced yet. But many expect price hikes of roughly 5 per cent.

Socony Mobil Oil Co. is raising the wholesale price of gasoline a half cent a gallon in 11 Eastern States.

The Hat Corp. of America and the John B. Stetson Co. are raising prices on some of their hat lines — although not all. This follows the doubling of prices of hatter's fur in world markets because of a shortage.

Heavy supplies of meat pouring into Midwest markets have been lowering wholesale prices there. The Agriculture Department estimates that the meat supply is currently 14 per cent greater than a year ago.

And the National Assn. of Tobacco Distributors says there are still lots of five cent cigars. It reports that 38 per cent of all cigars sold in the United States are of that old standby. They're topped, however, by ten-cent smokes—41 per cent of all sales.

South Carolina Town Has Fine Safety Score

JOHNSTON, S.C. — Johnston, population about 2,000, has never had a traffic fatality as far as anyone seems to know.

Also, no one ever has been hurt seriously in the comparatively rare accidents here, it is believed.

The records came to light when the Junior Chamber of Commerce undertook to put up a sign on Main Street telling the number of days since the last traffic accident and last fatality.

The JC's traced the records back 13 years without finding a single person killed or seriously hurt. So 13 years is the time put on the sign.

But Mayor E. R. Mobley, in offering the job completed, the hen's clucks of completion are as good as any alarm clock in waking the small Negro boy.

Mrs. Taylor said the hen started the bedside delivery service six months ago and has been at it pretty faithfully ever since.

Chicago Doctor Asks Reserve Commission For Rest of His Life

CHICAGO — Dr. James Robert Bridges of Kahoka, Mo., 92, a captain in the Army Medical Corps in World War I, has applied for a reserve commission. 5th Army Headquarters announced. Bridges offered to serve "for the rest of my life," or as long as the Army desires. Since World War II he has been examining draftees in his home county.

He is sure that the number of days without a fatality actually could be traced back to the day the first automobile appeared in Johnston.

"We've never made any special effort at traffic control," Mobley said. There is only one traffic light in town.

Here Tomorrow! NEW '56 FORD!

The fine car at half the fine car price!

With new 202 h.p. Thunderbird Y-8

New 202-h.p. Thunderbird Y-8 engine is available in Fordomatic Fairlane and Station Wagon models. In Fordomatic Customline and Mainline models you can have the "GO"-packed 176-h.p. Y-8. And Ford's new 137-h.p. Six is available in all 18 models.

...with new Thunderbird styling

The new '56 Ford looks like the Thunderbird, too! You'll find the same graceful lines... the same low silhouette... the same dashing appearance... styling which helped the fabulous Thunderbird to win America's heart. You can drive the '56 Ford anywhere, with assurance that it "belongs."

...with new Lifeguard Design

For '56, Ford brings you the greatest safety news in a generation. It's new Lifeguard Design. In cooperation with universities, medical associations and safety experts, Ford learned that most serious injuries in accidents were caused by drivers being thrown against steering post, occupants being thrown forward against hard interior surfaces, or thrown out of the car. To provide extra protection against these hazards Ford developed the new Lifeguard features described at right.

But there is still more wonderful news! Ford brings you Thunderbird power in a modern deep-block Y-8... Thunderbird beauty, too... rich new interiors... quality workmanship throughout.

See it... try it... you'll agree the '56 Ford is the fine car at half the fine car price.

Ford's new Lifeguard Design features are: a new steering wheel, with deep-center design, to act as a cushion in the event of an accident... double-grip door locks to reduce the chance of doors springing open under shock... optional padding for instrument panel and sun visors to help lessen injuries from impact... optional seat belts to help keep occupants securely in their seats.

Come in... See the new '56 FORD tomorrow

Lauren Bacall Relates What Most Men Want Said by Wife

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—"Yes, but—" "Good morning. How do you feel?" "What do you think I ought to do about fixing up the living room?" "Don't you think you've spread enough joy for one evening?" "You're wrong!"

These are five remarks Lauren Bacall says a wise wife should never make to her husband.

When the young, tawny blonde actress married Humphrey Bogart nearly 25 years her senior, Hollywood cynics bet on whether the match would last ten months or 10 days.

Ten years and two children later, however, Lauren and Bogie are having more fun together than two merry fleas on a shaggy dog. Somewhat to her own amazement, Miss Bacall is now regarded as an authority on matrimony.

Much has been written on how she tamed "the bad boy" of the movies, and she herself says that's utter nonsense.

"It's foolish to try to change the man you're married to," she said, during a breakfast-luncheon at the "21" Restaurant. "That won't make him better—but it will make him worse."

"Let him run wild. He'll always come home then."

She glanced cheerfully over at Bogart, who was standing at the bar talking baseball with the bartender and some other close friends. She and her husband had come to town the night before for a fling to celebrate completion of her latest film, "Blood Alley," co-starring John Wayne.

"If a man has been drinking a little bit, it doesn't pay to disagree with him. It only means you'll both be up all night, and you'll end up with circles under your eyes."

Bogart came over, said: "Hi-ya doin', Sam?" to Miss Bacall, and wandered back to the bar, bourbon and baseball.

"To think I've given that guy one third of my active life," said Lauren, grinning. "But I'm tougher to live with than he is. I'm more selfish. He's very patient with me. He wouldn't have put up with me. I'd have probably killed him—or we'd have killed each other."

Miss Bacall said she knew of no single prescription for marital happiness—"I don't believe in formulas; everybody's an individual and has the right to stay one"—but that she believed a wife should join in as many of her husband's activities as possible.

"But there are limits," she added. "Bogie loves yachting, and I—well, I—." She shuddered to indicate she likes water only in containers smaller than the Pacific Ocean.

Miss Bacall says it's a mistake to annoy a husband with household matters and gave this reason why a wife should also never ask him how he feels in the morning:

"He knows how he feels. Why remind him of it?"

Asked whether she thought a husband should help his wife dry dishes and share other kitchen chores, she gave a wonderful belly laugh and said frankly:

"I don't know. I don't go into the kitchen myself if I can help it."

What are the five remarks a wife should make most often to her husband to keep peace in the family? Miss Bacall, letting out with another fine belly laugh, gave these:

"Yes, darling, Yes."

"You're absolutely right. I couldn't agree with you more."

"You were perfectly charming last night. No, I'm not kidding. I really mean it. Everyone simply loved what you said."

"If it weren't for you, how would I have all these lovely things: our nice big house, our beautiful car—even our children?"

"Now don't move. Sit there. You're comfortable. Is there anything I can get for you—like a double-edged saw, or something?"

Miss Bacall's ideas may seem strange to some wives. But there's one thing about them. They work. After 10 years she still has a happy husband.

Friday, Oct. 7—County Kitchen Tour.

Thursday, Oct. 13—County Extension Club Achievement Day and Chicken Barbecue.

Monday, Oct. 24—County Council Meeting.

County Kitchen Tour

The Kitchen Tour scheduled for Friday, Sept. 23, has been postponed to Friday, Oct. 7. This will be an afternoon tour beginning at 1:30 p.m.

The group will meet at the Methodist Church in Smithton.

The remodeled kitchen there will be toured after which we will go to the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Fickens. There we will see a new home. Their kitchen is a well planned and constructed U-shaped kitchen with many labor saving features.

From there we will go to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Monsees, just south of Fickens. The kitchen there has been remodeled for a number of years. It has an arrangement of interest to those who have a large room and want to develop a step saving kitchen with a dining area included as a part of the arrangement. The last visit will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Green north of Smithton. Their kitchen has been recently remodeled. The interesting feature is the well planned wall storage space in spite of a low ceiling.

This tour should be of interest to all persons who are planning to do some remodeling or building. Remember the time, Friday, Oct. 7, 1:30 p.m., Smithton Methodist Church.

County Achievement Day
Plans are developing for the County Achievement Day program and Chicken Barbecue. The date is Thursday, Oct. 13.

We would appreciate receiving the reports from the clubs as soon as they have had their September meeting. These reports are necessary in making final plans for the barbecue and program.

Food for School Children
Children and their school needs receive major consideration at this time of year. Parents are busy providing for school clothes, school books and other school supplies, school transportation, and school lunches. If children are to do well in school, parents must consider also how they will provide them with the amount and kind of food they need for good nutrition and health.

Children need a good breakfast every day. They also require a well planned lunch. The evening meal to be adequate must be planned with the other two meals in mind and must supplement breakfast and lunch so none of the required nutrients are left out of the day's diet.

Children's diets have improved over the years but the goal of a good diet for every child has not been reached. Too many children start to school each fall with the handicap of malnutrition and poor food habits.

Studies show that children of elementary school age have better diets, on the average, than teenagers, and that boys as a general rule eat better than girls. Of the diets which do not meet nutritional standards, more are low in calcium, Vitamin C, and Vitamin A than in the other nutrients. This would indicate that many family meals should include more milk and milk products, more citrus fruits and tomatoes, and more green or yellow vegetables.

In studying children's food habits it is found that breakfast is the most neglected meal. It is either skipped entirely or is hastily eaten and inadequate.

In planning and serving better meals for children the adults in the family will benefit, for studies show that diets of adults are deficient in the same nutrients as are those of children, and that adults also neglect breakfast.

A well planned meal, whether it is breakfast, lunch or dinner, will provide its share of protein. Protein can be supplied at breakfast by eggs, or milk, or both. Cereals contribute additional protein but are inadequate unless served with milk or other animal protein foods. Citrus fruit or juice is a recommended breakfast staple that provides generously for the Vitamin C requirements. Vitamin A can be supplied in part by oranges, by whole milk, egg yolk, and by butter or margarine. Breakfast cereals and bread sup-

Answer to Previous Puzzle

AA or A for the best. It'll soon become a breakfast habit.

The new Missouri Egg Law says all eggs sold at retailer's level must be graded and labeled. The grades of "Unclassified" or "No Grade" are eliminated—just AA, A, B and C grades remain. All information as to quality and size will be on the label.

Buy eggs from refrigerated counters and keep their quality by placing directly into your refrigerator.

High temperatures or too long a cooking time will toughen eggs. Use a low to moderate heat and cook only until done. Eggs are delicate and naturally tender, so treat them so.

Shell color does not affect the flavor, the nutritive value or the cooking performance of eggs. Neither is it a guide to yolk color.

Small eggs have the same food value in proportion as large eggs. The best protein available, and a wealth of vitamins and minerals are inside their shells.

Today's Pay Check

Do you sometimes wonder where your food dollars go, and what you are getting for them? Today, we spend one-fourth of our income (after taxes) for food just as we did back in 1920. But we get more food for what we spend. If we ate the same as the average generation ago we would spend less than 20 per cent of our income for food.

Looking at it another way, your take-home pay will buy more food than it did 30 years ago. For example, one hour's earnings would buy: Then 5½ loaves of bread, now 10 loaves of bread; or 1½ pounds of steak, 2 pounds of steak; or 1½ pounds of chicken, or 3 pounds of chicken; or 3½ quarts of milk, or 7 quarts of milk; or 1 dozen oranges, or 3 dozen oranges.

Cost is only part of the story of today's food supply. Consider these advantages unknown to the shopper of yesteryear!

Our diet is Better—We eat more milk, cheese, ice cream, more vegetables and fruits, more meat, poultry and eggs. And our bread and grain products are enriched.

Convenience Is Built-In—We can choose between foods prepared at home, or foods with extra services "built-in." Canned, frozen, ready-mixed, pre-cooked and packaged foods are not an accepted part of our food supply. Yes, the extra services cost money, but they save time for the homemaker.

Food Quality Is High—Due to inspection and sanitary controls, food quality is no longer a question mark. Many foods are graded, making it easier for the shopper to choose the quality which she prefers.

We Have Variety—Year round, rain or shine we enjoy a wide variety, including fresh foods almost unlimited by season.

Marciano KO's Moore In Ninth Round

Champ, Floored In Second, Comes Back to Hold Title

NEW YORK (AP) — Heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano's awe-inspiring, meat-grinder destruction of gallant, ancient Archie Moore in one of boxing's great battles may have been the invincible Brockton Blaster's last fight.

This was the one the indomitable Rocky of Brockton wanted to win more than any other since he knocked the crown off Jersey Joe Walcott's brow three years ago in Philadelphia. And he won it in typical fashion with a relentless, bulldozing attack that smashed Archie's crumbling defenses with a knockout in 1:19 of the ninth round.

Now, with the light heavyweight king out of the way, there were no more worlds for boxing's Caesar to conquer and he mulled over retirement.

"There is a lot of pressure from my family for me to retire," said the 31-year-old victor in his dressing room. "My mother wants me to quit. So does my dad, and my wife. It has been a pretty bad ordeal for them. I don't know what I should do."

Then Rocky added: "Personally, at this point, I don't feel I should retire."

Last night Rocky came off the floor like he did in the memorable first fight with Walcott, and ground down the crafty, cocky Moore with a relentless assault.

A smashing left hook to the jaw ended the 38-year-old master craftsman's fierce resistance, leaving him a collapsed heap in his own corner.

Out to become the first light heavyweight champion ever to ascend to the heavyweight throne, Archie gave it all he had in the beginning when he floored Mar-

Hubbard to Play Douglass Friday Night at Columbia

The Hubbard High School Tigers play their first game of football in the 1955 season Friday night at Columbia. The Tigers will meet the Douglass High School team on the latter's gridiron.

Douglass opened its season last week when the team met and defeated St. Peter's of Jefferson City by a score of 34 to 0.

Coach Tipton isn't making any predictions for the Tigers yet. He has had 24 boys out for football, all working hard and endeavoring to build a strong eleven. Although the team looks fairly good in practice, Friday's tilt will tell the tale as to just what can be expected of Hubbard.

Underrated Johnson Beats Out Ten Round Decision Over Dykes

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., (AP)—George Johnson, a hard-hitting but underrated middleweight from Newark, N. J., beat out an easy 10-round decision over Miami's Bobby Dykes last night and may have earned a non-title bout with champion Bobo Olson.

Johnson, who won here Oct. 26 to the winner and Johnson, a promoter Chris Dundee had promised an Olson match here Oct. 26 to the winner and Johnson, a 2-1 underdog, proved himself a better puncher than Dykes, the sixth-ranked middleweight.

After Dykes had eluded him for five rounds, Johnson dropped him for an eight count in the sixth with a right to the jaw, followed by a smashing left hook.

Another right by Johnson snaked through Dykes' defense in the tenth to drop him for a count of eight.

It was the 32nd victory in 38 fights for Johnson, who has flattened 22 of his foes. Dykes suffered the 18th loss in his career of 126 battles.

Dykes weighed 163½, Johnson 157.

Cubs Outpace Cards 7-5 In Extra Innings

The luck the St. Louis Cardinals have been having in extra-inning games this month ran out on them last night.

Randy Jackson unloaded a three-run triple in the 13th inning to break up a tense battle and give the Chicago Cubs a 7-5 victory in the last meeting of the year between the two clubs.

But the big Cub hero was rookie outfielder Bob Speake, who suffered a dislocated left wrist in crashing into the left field wall for a game saving 11th-inning catch of Alex Grammas' drive with the bases loaded and two out.

Reliever Jim Davis was the victor over rookie Willard Schmidt, who did an outstanding job until the 13th.

Joe Frazier's fifth homer of the season tied the game for St. Louis in the last of the ninth after Gale Wade hit his first homer in the top of the inning.

Gene Baker hit his 11th homer for the Cubs and Stan Mical his 32nd earlier in the game.

The Cardinals had won three of four extra-inning games in September, whipping Cincinnati, Brooklyn and the Cubs Monday.

Milwaukee's Warren Spahn dealt them their only overtime loss in that period.

At Detroit yesterday, Hector Lopez spoiled Dick Marlowe's shut-out bid over the Kansas City A's by smacking his 15th homer of the year with two down in the ninth.

The Tigers jumped on starter Mike Kume and the first of four relievers, Cloyd Boyer, for an eight-run first inning and added two more in the fifth off Bobby Shantz to gain their sixth straight victory, 10-1.

Ray Boone's three-run homer sparked the first inning uprising and Harvey Kuenn's two-run circuit smash finished it.

Marlowe, making his first start since being recalled from Buffalo, held the A's to seven hits. The Tigers garnered 11 blows off the A's pitchers, including two by Al Kaline, raising his season total to 198. Boone raised his RBI total to 114.

TWO-EGG CAKE is dressed up with glamorous decoration.

Basic Cake; Fancy Fixings

By Cecily Brownstone
Associated Press Food Editor

This two-egg cake is made the quick-beat way; a basic recipe, it gains glamor from its fixings. If Concord grapes are available, you can use them to make the cake filling; if not, use a good grape jam. Frost the cake with cinnamon whipped cream and give it a gorgeous garnish made from halved red or blue grapes and fresh mint leaves.

GRAPE CAKE

Ingredients: 2½ cups sifted cake flour, 3 teaspoons double-acting baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt, 1½ cups sugar, ½ cup emulsifier-type vegetable shortening, 2 teaspoons grated lemon rind, 1 cup milk, 2 eggs, Concord Grape Filling or grape jam, Cinnamon Whipped Cream, extra red or blue grapes, fresh mint leaves.

Method: Line bottom of square pan (9 by 9 by 2 inches) with paper. Put flour, baking powder, salt and sugar into sifter. Put shortening and lemon rind in large mixing bowl; stir together to soften shortening. Sift in dry ingredients. Add ¾ cup of the milk and mix until all flour is dampened. Beat 2 minutes at low speed of electric mixer or 300 vigorous strokes by hand. Add eggs and remaining ¾ cup milk; beat 1 minute longer at low speed of mixer or 150 vigorous strokes by hand. Turn into prepared pan. Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven 45 to 50 minutes. Turn out on rack to cool. Split cake in half horizontally, forming two layers. Spread Concord Grape Filling or grape jam between layers. And spread top and sides of cake with Cinnamon Whipped Cream. Decorate with "bunches of grapes" made from halved seeded grapes and mint leaves. Chill until ready to serve.

Concord Grape Filling

Stir 2 tablespoons cake flour, ¼ cup sugar and a dash of salt together in a small saucepan. Add ¼ cup water and 1 cup Concord grapes; bring to a boil, stirring occasionally. Boil 2 minutes. Strain through a sieve. Cool before spreading on cake.

Cinnamon Whipped Cream

Add 2 tablespoons confectioners' sugar and 1 teaspoon cinnamon to 1½ cups heavy cream; whip until stiff.

No Beer Here

CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP)—Officers caught two men in a house whose owner was out of town. The men told Magistrate O. L. Thompson they thought they were re-entering a beer parlor they had visited earlier in the evening.

Thompson was not impressed. The house was the residence of the Rev. Paul M. Pridgen, Baptist minister known as a dedicated prohibitionist.

Houses Can Be Protected From Un-Hurricane Winds

By MR. FIX
Distributed by NEA Service

Hurricanes Connie and Diane, of recent infancy, directed their attention at coastal areas only, as hurricanes are wont to do. However, year after year windstorms of lesser velocity strike both inland and coastal regions with fine impartiality, piling up imposing lists of minor damages.

Damages that are "minor" to headline writers can be pretty major to individual homeowners. Were a full-blown storm to dislodge a few shingles on your roof, for instance, rain pouring into the attic would cause untold damage to walls, ceiling and furnishings. It wouldn't make headlines, but what a headache.

Yet it's the relatively minor losses like these that, added up, account for most of the dollar loss in windstorms. A few precautionary measures could prevent, or at least reduce, a substantial part of this property loss, according to the Liberty Mutual Fire Insurance Co.

For one thing, be sure that roof shingles are securely fastened down. If yours is an asphalt shingle roof (85 per cent of the roofs in this country are asphalt shingle), says Liberty Mutual, then stick down the tab ends of each shingle unit with asphalt tab cement. You can buy it at building materials stores.

Put a small amount of cement under each tab and press down. Don't apply it on a hot day, as the cement may get too gooey to handle.

Insurance people point out that house maintenance of this type is particularly important when it comes to saving money on windstorm damage, as a great many insurance policies have a $50 deductible clause (this means that if you have one of the new white or pastel roofs be careful not to apply too much cement and not to put it too near the bottom edge of the tabs. Otherwise, it may run down and stain the shingles).

Roof leaks, too, should be checked before the next blustery, rainy season. Leaks that appear to be small now can really cause trouble in severe storms. Also, have torn or loose flashing repaired, clean out gutters and downspouts, and be sure they are firmly affixed to the house.

If the mortar in your chimney is bad, or if it needs new flashing, have it repaired by a mason. Chimney damage is high on the list of windstorm losses.

Put a small amount of cement under each tab and press down. Don't apply it on a hot day, as the cement may get too gooey to handle.

Party Place Mats Help Brighten Your Luncheons

TULIPS ON THE TABLE . . . Green linen place mats with appliqued tulips are easy to make, add flair to table.

By Dorothy Roe
Associated Press Women's Editor

One of the nicest things about arranging a special luncheon is setting a pretty table. The woman with a flair for entertaining knows that gleaming silver, unusual flower arrangements and attractive place mats can be almost as important as the food, when it comes to putting guests in a party mood.

Local sewing center experts suggest you use your imagination to stitch place mats to set a theme for your next luncheon. They suggest green linen mats with a gay tulip motif, with the matching green napkin tucked in the pocket made by the top of the tulip. The theme is carried out with tulip buds floating in individual dishes.

Each place mat requires a piece of linen measuring 19 by 13 inches. Before cutting be sure to pull a thread in the linen to get the exact grain of the fabric. If your cutting is the least bit off the true grain, the mats will not lie flat. This size allows one-half inch all around for finishing. The finished mat will be 18 by 12 inches.

Use your automatic zigzagger to edge the mat and make the tulip applique. To edge mat, draw a straight line a half-inch in from the edge of the mat on all four sides. This will be your guide line for the fine satin stitch edging the mat. With the machine set for a satin stitch (25 to 30 stitches to the inch) and your automatic zigzagger set for a narrow high, stitch around the mat following the line you have drawn. Trim off close to line of stitching.

To make tulip applique, draw design first on brown paper. Cut and trace the tulip outline on the mat, placing the design on the left side one inch in from the side and one inch up from the bottom. This outline should be about 8 inches high.

Using the same brown paper pattern, trace the flower section only of the design onto a square of polka dot fabric. Cut out this design, allowing one inch seam allowance on all sides. Back this section with two layers of organdy to give necessary stiffness. Using the same machine setting you used to edge the mat, satin stitch around the petals of the flower to finish edges, following guide lines. Trim away excess fabric close to line of stitching on top edges of tulip petals only.

Now place flower in correct position on mat. Only the petal section of the flower is finished at this point; the bottom half has not yet been stitched. Pin flower over the original outline.

Seven-Up is so pure, so wholesome that you can even give it to babies and feel good about it! Seven-Up is "right" for folks of all ages. You like it . . . it likes you. Nothing does it like Seven-Up!

icicle stitch pattern makes a dainty edge on the applique.

The finished napkin should measure 12 by 12 inches, so cut it to measure 13 by 13 inches. Satin stitch around it, a half-inch in from the edge on all sides, and trim away excess fabric.

Place mats are always welcome gifts, and a set like this would make an unusual and inexpensive gift for a bride. Other flowers, such as the rose and the daffodil, take well to applique work, and a set of place mats with a different flower on each would make a real conversation piece.

Small Tidbits Give Big Flavor

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Anchovies, flat or rolled, can give so much interest to menus. Even Webster says that the anchovy, a member of a small hering-like fish family, is "esteemed for its rich and peculiar flavor." If you haven't given these savory little tidbits their due, and are in an adventurous culinary mood, you might like to follow some of these suggestions.

NEW PEAR SALAD
Ripe succulent Bartlett pears are served with mixed greens, anchovies and French dressing for a new salad. When we prepared this recently, we got the greens ready—torn into bite-size pieces—half teaspoon of prepared Bahama mustard and salt and pepper. We spooned the dressed greens and anchovies into individual wooden bowls and topped them with peeled and sectioned Bartlett pears, which we had dipped in lemon juice to help them stay white. The salad tasted delightful after a main course of spit-roasted chicken.

If you like, you may prepare this salad without adding the minced anchovies to the greens. In this case, mix the greens and French dressing, then top each portion with the pears and a few whole rolled caper-stuffed anchovies.

PARTY SPREAD
Another excellent spread is made by creaming equal parts of Roquefort cheese and cream cheese together and adding minced anchovies and Worcestershire sauce.

ITALIAN-STYLE BEANS
As an appetizer, we are partial to cooked dried white beans or chick peas marinated with vinegar, olive oil and a clove of garlic. (The chick peas come in cans and are an excellent product.) Just be-minted parsley and flat anchovies. If you want to serve these beans salt and freshly-ground pepper to on an appetizer tray, we suggest taste and top them with lots of accompanying them with sliced ripe tomatoes, black olives, can- ned pimiento and romaine.

LUNCHEON SALADS
For a luncheon salad, cut flat anchovies into small pieces and mix with cream-style cottage cheese and chopped green olives. Serve on lettuce with French dressing.

Stuffed eggs with anchovies are elegant. Hard-cook the eggs, cut in half lengthwise and remove the yolks. Mash the hot yolks with a little soft butter, dry mustard, lemon juice, minced anchovies and salt and pepper. Refill the whites; ruffle the filling with the times of a fork and sprinkle with paprika. Top each stuffed egg with a rolled anchovy. Serve with salad greens for lunch.

SPAGHETTI SAUCE
Add minced flat anchovies to a lightly-seasoned sauce made from fresh tomatoes; serve over spaghetti. Or add the anchovies to a butter-and-garlic sauce for spaghetti.

A Tribute To A Good Boy

Whiteman Air Force Base.

That will become the new name of Sedalia Air Force Base October 1, honoring Lieutenant George A. Whiteman, Sedalia airman who lost his life under fire of the Japanese at Pearl Harbor.

The stark brutality of war was brought home quickly to Sedalians that Sunday afternoon. Official word came no later than midnight to Mrs. John C. Whiteman telling of the death of her 21-year-old son. She had not even known he was in Hawaii because he could not divulge his first assignment to a combat outfit. He had received his pilot's wings in 1940. It was then he was photographed in the cockpit of a plane. Wearing headgear and beaming a smile, his eyes gazed toward the heavens. He was so elated over earning his pilot's wings that he wrote across the photograph sent to his mother: "Lucky Me, Lucky Me!" and the words appeared as though written on the fuselage of the plane in which he sat.

This is the photograph some Sedalians would like to see enlarged into an oil painting, presented to the Air Force and hung in an appropriate building on Whiteman Air Force Base. This should occur at the formal dedication ceremonies naming the base, the date for which has not yet been set. An appropriate date for this event would be December 7, 1955, the anniversary of the day when George was shot down by the Japanese. This would permit ample time for preparation of a painting and arranging details for a public ceremony. Cost of the painting could be underwritten by public subscription.

Since Pearl Harbor many tributes have been paid George Whiteman, including the Silver Star and the latest enduring honor in having one of the Air Force's best bases named for him. But the most reverent and expressive tribute came from the lips of his mother that midnight hour 14 years ago when she opened the telegram and learned her boy was dead:

"George was a good boy."

Those who heard the words knew their poignancy and deep meaning because the boy who made good and whose career was cut so short was ever mindful of his love and duty to his parents and concern for the welfare of his brothers and sisters.

Yes, George was a good boy and Sedalians should join with the United States Air Force in honoring him at the dedication of Whiteman Air Force Base.

Washington Merry-Go-Round—

Housewife Pays More; Farmer Gets Less

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — I should warn my readers at the outset that I am prejudiced regarding the subject I'm writing about today. To some extent, I am also experienced.

Since a lot of city pundits and politicians, from Vice President Nixon to Pete Edson, are now expounding on the subject of farming, however, I might as well throw in my three cents worth, too.

The reason I am prejudiced can best be explained by the following: Two years ago, and just before Ezra Taft Benson kicked the price supports out from under milk, my monthly milk check was $6.06 a hundredweight — or 11.6 gallons. At that time the home-delivered price of Grade A homogenized milk in Washington and nearby Virginia-Maryland was about 24 cents a quart.

Today, after two years of Benson, the base price paid to the milk producer, the man who does the initial job of getting the milk out of the cow, has dropped to around $4.50 per hundredweight. Add some premiums to this for a clean barn and extra butterfat, and a good milk producer can get around $4.90. In other words, his price has taken the rather severe drop of $1-plus per hundredweight.

But while his price has been dropping, the retail price has been going up. Today milk retails to the housewife not for 24 cents a quart, but for 25 cents in the Washington vicinity.

In other words, the milk-drinking children of this area, instead of getting the advantage of the lower price paid me and other dairymen, get socked a higher price.

Teamsters Union

This, I hasten to add, is at least one thing not to be blamed on Brother Benson. The blame — though a fairer word is reason — goes to the Teamsters Union and the cost of milk handling in the city. The milk driver who delivers milk to homes in the Washington area averages $100 a week for a five-day week. In some areas, such as Chicago, where he delivers large quantities of milk to stores, restaurants and hotels, his pay will run around $10,000 a year while in one or two cases it has reached $30,000 a year. This, however, is unusual.

The average dairyman in this area, on the other hand, is paid a top of $50 a week — and usually less. To be sure, he also gets free milk, a house and usually some meat. But he begins work at 3:30 a. m., sleeps a few hours during the day, always works six days a week and sometimes seven. He not only has to know how to coax milk out of an udder, but he must know something about mastitis, hoof rot, breeding problems and calf feeding. It's a skilled profession. And the man who lets infection get loose in his herd or fails to breed his cows on time can lose thousands of dollars before he knows what has hit him.

Farmer Can't Strike

The average farmer these days naturally gripes about the Teamsters Union and the high prices paid to deliver his milk. He will also gripe at the United Auto Workers and the 34-cents-an-hour wage increase and fringe benefits they have just got from International Harvester. For he knows that this means he'll pay a higher price for his tractor, disc harrow and mowing machine in a month or two.

The farmer also knows that he can't use the same weapon as the auto worker and the teamster to obtain a raise. For he can't strike. In the first place his cows can't strike. If they aren't milked they suffer agonies, eventually dry up and are a complete loss. Or if he raises other crops he can't go on strike by leaving his wheat or his corn or his soybeans in the field. He has too much money tied up, too much equipment, seed, fertilizer, labor invested. So, no matter what the price, he has to bring his crop in. Sometimes, as in the case of melons or perishable produce, he'll dump them in a ditch rather than take the time and expense of marketing them. But most of the time he has to sell — no matter what the price.

So he gripes at organized labor, which can strike — even though the farmer knows that labor is not only entitled to a good wage but that, when labor is well paid, he, the farmer, usually prospers too.

The only trouble is that in recent years the farmer has been selling in competition with the world market while labor has been selling on the restricted, more protected, domestic market. Because of this, and because labor is organized while the farmer isn't, farm income, farm standards of living have been going down along with the price of farm products, while the income and general prosperity of the rest of the nation have been going up.

Back to City

A lot of farmers have been giving up and moving to town. Some can afford to. Some have wives and families, like mine, who would shout hallelujas if I got over my stubborn streak and sold the dairy herd. But a lot can't afford to get out. They have too much money tied up in land and equipment; and sometimes they don't know any other profession.

Result of all this is that one-sixth of the population of the United States is lagging far behind the rest of the population in economic well-being. There's semi-inflation in the nation, semi-depression on the farm. That is what happened just before the depression days of 1932. It was the farmers who got hit first. They were hit even when the stock market was still booming, when white-collar workers were pouring their savings into Wall Street; and when the nation still believed that Herbert Hoover's promise of a chicken in every pot and two cars in every garage was really here to stay.

What the solution should be has been discussed by better farmers and abler experts than I. The only thing I am sure of is that some remedies are overdue.

Truman, Chapter I

Seldom in our history have we been treated to the memoirs of a top public figure in the early aftermath of his career. But now we have the beginnings of former President Harry Truman's personal story less than three years after he left the White House.

As we read these words, we must remember that this is not history. It is one man's version of history. It is important and interesting because the man was involved in the making of events.

But even the most objective-minded man is bound to present those events in a light reasonably favorable to him. And Mr. Truman never has been noted for balanced objectivity.

Nevertheless, within the limitations thus posed, the former President's account of his first days in office is a fascinating document. We are indebted to Life magazine for its initial publication.

Inevitably, human sympathies go out to Mr. Truman for the way in which he was catapulted suddenly onto center stage while a great world war was raging.

A month earlier, as vice president, he had complained he did not have enough to do. As of April 12, 1945, he had too much to do, and he did not know how to do it.

He was frightened, as his utterances of the time indicated frankly. He was shockingly uninformed about the key aspects of the great war effort. It was grave evidence of the weaknesses of a system which had kept a vice president an outsider as vital decisions were being made.

For example, not until the day after he took office did he learn, in a private aside from Secretary of War Stimson, that a huge secret project — development of the atomic bomb — was under way.

But for all his fright and bewilderment, Mr. Truman had nerve. Moments after he was sworn in, he made his first decision — to go ahead with plans for the United Nations charter conference at San Francisco.

While he was a whole-souled supporter of the late Franklin D. Roosevelt's foreign and domestic policies, the new President was enough his own man to decide he would eventually make changes because he felt some policies were badly administered.

Perhaps the strongest early instance of Mr. Truman's nerve was his handling of Russian Foreign Minister Molotov on his arrival for the U. N. conference. Mr. Truman chided Molotov for Russia's failure to keep its Yalta agreement on a compromise government for postwar Poland.

Said Molotov: "I have never been talked to like that in my life."

"Carry out your agreements and you won't get talked to like that," was the reply.

Yes, these first chapters of the Truman story have a high dramatic content. They cover a time when he had the compassionate support of a whole nation. More controversial episodes are yet to unfold.

The World Today—

Television Is Big Problem for Campaigners

By DON WHITEHEAD

WASHINGTON — The big brains in politics have a worrisome problem coming up because of television. Its use is going to turn the 1956 presidential campaign into one of the most widely viewed dramas ever played on the American scene.

The problem is this:

1. What is the best way to present the candidate on the TV screens in millions of homes in a folksy, and seemingly unrehearsed manner?

2. And, how can these appearances be carefully staged and rehearsed to capture all the drama of the moment without the production appearing too slick and contrived?

It's a real problem. A candidate in these days must be a better-than-fair sort of actor. The most popular political productions seem to be those with the intimate, homespun atmosphere overlaid with by such obvious sincerity that no one can overlook it or fail to be impressed.

Even if a candidate is naturally homespun and sincere, it doesn't always register before a camera. And to make it register requires some acting ability.

The truth is that presidential candidates — and candidates for Congress too — must have "television appeal" in the new scheme of things. This means developing a knack for acting before a camera.

During the 1952 campaign, there was a good deal of talk that "the hucksters" had begun to take over in selling a political candidate to the people. The Democrats particularly leveled the charge against the Eisenhower campaign.

But there are tricks to every trade and the politicians of both parties have had to turn to the merchandising experts for advice and direction in putting their best TV foot forward.

The agency which represented the Republicans in 1952 was Batten, Barton, Durstine and Osborne of New York. The Democrats depended on the Joseph Katz Agency of Baltimore. Both parties again will have merchandising experts behind the scenes in the next campaign. It appears they have come to the political platform to stay.

It might be argued with some validity that television in 1956 will have twice the impact in politics that it had in 1952 because more than double the number of voters will be watching TV screens. No one yet knows just how great an impact TV has in the success or failure of a political candidate. But neither party can take chances by not putting its best TV foot forward.

Both President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon have developed a relaxed, informal manner before the television cameras. And Adlai Stevenson, the 1952 Democratic nominee, while not so folksy as Eisenhower and Nixon, is an able TV performer.

Some wags are suggesting that the 1956 campaign should be reported by the drama critics rather than political reporters. And it could be.

One morning he said to his friend: "I had some fresh kraut for dinner last night."

The other fellow looked at him rather queerly and the first fellow thought it was strange because he didn't think it such an unusual thing to have fresh kraut.

"I didn't know you had been fishing," he said finally.

"I haven't," said the first fellow. "Where did you get the fresh trout, then?" he asked.

"I didn't say fresh trout," he explained. "I said fresh kraut."

Committee Work Counts, Too, In Congressman's Record

By JOSEPH A. DEAR
Democrat-Capitol
Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Only one of the many unofficial political action groups that operate here, Americans for Democratic Action, has published an analysis of Congressional voting records in the past session.

The general failure of other groups to issue studies constitutes a backhanded tribute to the virtuosity of the Democratic Congressional leadership. Its ability to avoid record votes on controversial legislation was astonishing. The absence of record votes, of course, makes it difficult for any partisan group to issue a meaningful study of Congressional voting.

ADA, which is usually identified with the "liberal" wing of the Democratic Party, recognized the difficulty but undertook the task anyway. The findings are fascinating.

For example, by ADA standards Senator William Langer of North Dakota is the most "liberal," and therefore presumably the most worthy, Republican in the Senate. His "liberal" rating was 50 per cent.

Several years ago a poll was taken to determine how members of the Senate Press Gallery ranked Senators. A large majority of the participating newsmen named Langer as the "worst" Senator. (The poll was conducted in the pre-McCarthy era.)

An unkind, unnecessary, rather silly thing, that poll. But no sillier than the ADA's analysis, perhaps. A Congressman's effectiveness cannot be measured by his votes alone. Voting may be the payoff, but much precedes it.

Committee work, for instance. It's in the committees that bills are prepared for floor action. And effective Congressmen tend to their committee work. A Congressman whose political persuasion is opposite yours, might nevertheless make a substantial contribution in committee. And a contribution which you could praise, no matter what your party affiliation. This factor—diligence in day to day committee work — is one that should be weighed in rating Congressmen. But it rarely is.

And another part of a Congressman's job is serving his district. Obviously, the studies, analyses, and polls have their deficiencies, but if one is ever conducted to select the most colorful Senator, Langer gets the vote of this department. And to round this off, here, for what it's worth, is ADA's ranking of your Congressmen and Senators:

Senator Tom Hennings is way up there at 88.9 per cent. And his Democratic colleague, Senator Stuart Symington, isn't too far behind (80 per cent). Congressman Morgan Moulder got a mark of 75 per cent.

DANIEL BOONE

Shawnee Chief Blackfish, on his way to attack Boone's camp, surprised Boone, who was collecting salt near Salt Lick in 1778.

Boone told the chief that blood would be spilled if he attacked Boone's camp. Blackfish replied: "We want captives to sell the British."

Daniel Boone persuaded 28 companions to surrender on condition that the helpless village be spared and that they would be well treated.

After the surrender, Chief Blackfish said the terms did not apply to Dan'l, who was forced to "run the gantlet," a mild form of torture.
